

The Spanish association AECAE joins EFESME to strengthen the representation of European lift SMEs

EFESME is proud to welcome a new member: AECAE, the Spanish association of lift component manufacturers

It is a great satisfaction for the Federation and its members to welcome into the EFESME family the Spanish association AECAE, with which it has enjoyed a strong relationship for many years.

By joining EFESME, AECAE brings valuable technical expertise to the Federation, further enhancing its mission to support and represent the interests of European lift SMEs. This new membership strengthens EFESME's commitment to uniting key players in the sector and expanding its reach across Europe.

AECAE's decision to become part of EFESME reflects a shared commitment to fostering innovation, technical excellence, and SME-driven growth within the lift industry. Their contribution will be instrumental in enriching the Federation's technical work and advocacy, especially in areas critical to component manufacturing.

With the addition of AECAE, EFESME reinforces its role as the voice of lift SMEs at the European level and continues its work to ensure that SMEs in the sector are effectively represented and supported.

According to the AECAE President, Mr. Eugenio Barroso García Leyaristy, "It is an honour for AECAE to join EFESME and become part of this European network of collaboration. We are committed to actively supporting a more competitive lift industry by defending SMEs' interests and promoting continuous improvement in productivity and innovation."

For more information about EFESME and its members, please visit www.efesme.org.